Namaste,

It is my privilege to welcome you to this groundbreaking summit on the dimensions of cyber warfare, where we are honored to host an extraordinary gathering of leaders from our Defence forces, academic luminaries, judicial fraternity, law enforcement authorities, and cyber Defence and technology leadership from across the globe. The presence of such distinguished speakers and guests brings invaluable strategic depth to our discussions. Their collective experience in modernizing Defence capabilities and integrating cyber warfare into military and societal frameworks demonstrates our commitment to strengthening India's cyber Defence posture.

In the technology and cybersecurity domain, we are privileged to welcome global pioneers and innovators. The participation of leaders from premier cybersecurity organizations, multinational technology companies, and national agencies brings cutting-edge perspectives on emerging threats and countermeasures. Their expertise in artificial intelligence, quantum computing, legal frameworks, behavioral science, and advanced cyber knowledge will be instrumental in shaping our cyber Defence strategies for the future.

The summit is further enriched by the presence of distinguished academicians, researchers, and legal experts who bring scholarly depth to our deliberations. Their groundbreaking work in cognitive warfare analysis, mathematical modeling of cyber threats, and international cyber law frameworks provides the intellectual foundation for developing robust Defence mechanisms. The participation of international speakers adds a valuable global perspective to our discussions on cyber warfare and security.

We are particularly honored to have senior officials from law enforcement, judiciary, and policy-making bodies joining us. Their expertise in cyber law, digital forensics, and regulatory frameworks is essential for understanding the multifaceted challenges of cyber warfare. Together, this diverse assembly creates an unprecedented opportunity for crossdomain learning and collaboration. I trust that in the three days Summit, the collective wisdom in this Sangam will help forge new pathways in advancing India's cyber Defence capabilities.

Best regards,
Dr. G.K. Goswami
